The NEW Goldtouch Comfort Mouse

Pink mouse available only in right hand- wired.
PART Number: KOV-GTM-KOMENPINK

Introducing the NEW Goldtouch Comfort mouse, designed from the ground-up for better comfort through better fit; finally giving your wrist, hand and fingers a well-deserved rest. In their design effort, Goldtouch engineers started with the simple fact that most mice aren't comfortable to hold or to use. Competitive products may claim comfort, but how can they be serious if the design forces you to hold your arm, wrist, hand, and fingers in some pretty un-natural, hard to hold positions?

At Goldtouch, we approach design in a different way. Utilizing a no-compromise approach, based on over fifteen years of research into individual fit, Goldtouch engineers concentrated their efforts on delivering a better experience through innovative form & simplicity of function.

The result is so much better, it's patented. In addition to the patented forward and lateral slope for significant improvements in comfort, the new Goldtouch Comfort-fit Mouse features oversized buttons for both the shortest - and longest - of fingers.

We think you'll be surprised just how simple and comfortable point & click can be. With support for both Windows® and MAC OS® X, wired (USB) or wireless, and both right-hand and left-handed versions, the NEW Goldtouch Comfort-Fit™ mouse offers truly seamless integration into any home or business environment with driver-free installation and our one year hassle-free warranty.

Can your workspace benefit from improved comfort?

Goldtouch isn't like other PC peripheral manufacturers. Instead of building millions of 'cookie-cutter' consumer-oriented plastic, we began our legacy in 1994 helping IBM and other international employers apply industrial design principles to computer products to improve user control and garner greater levels of tactile feedback and comfort.

You've probably seen Goldtouch products featured on ABC News, the PBS World Progress Report, MACWorld, PC Week or the literally dozens of Enterprise case studies extolling the virtues of our design innovation... but that's not why people end up choosing Goldtouch. The simple reason why more and more consumers and businesses prefer Goldtouch products is a value proposition drenched in user delight through better comfort.

By delivering better improved comfort through a better fit, Goldtouch products provide you the opportunity to get better tactile feedback, reduced stress on your arm, hand and fingers, the opportunity to improve your productivity and enjoy a better computing experience -- comfort through better fit.
